I have a view of a label and a placeholder in a storyboard that I cannot change their text and placeholder text. But I cannot change its accessibility. Here is how the view looks like in the storyboard. I cannot change the text. I can change the placeholder text but not the text. I want to change both the text and the placeholder text. But when I try to change them I get the warning message in the storyboard. I am not sure if I have set them to readonly or readwrite. A: Right-click the label, and set the Accessibility label to the text you want to change. The "Accessibility Label" is in the attributes inspector of the Attributes inspector (not in the General tab of the View Attributes inspector). Microclones in mammary tumors revealed by restriction analysis of restriction fragment length polymorphism. Mammary tumors contain many distinct cells, and differences in gene expression between these cells are the basis for tumor heterogeneity. We applied restriction fragment length polymorphism (RFLP) analysis to investigate differences in genomic structure between microclones of human breast tumors. DNA was digested with eight restriction enzymes. Each tumor microclone is characterized by a distinctive RFLP pattern. Hybridization with a 32P-labeled cloned human DNA probe to the digest of the tumor DNA revealed that a single copy of the probe hybridized with each restriction site. The results of this study demonstrate that the genomic structure of the breast tumors is different in individual microclones. This approach should be useful in further studies of tumor heterogeneity in other human neoplasias.Census Day Survey The Census Day Survey will provide you with an opportunity to complete the Census as an anonymous participant.
